I've said it before, and I stick to my belief that there has not been nearly enough Bruce Greenwood on The River. " Doctor Emmet Cole " did a bit to remedy that. Watching what he encountered on everyone's favorite found footage we got some real insight into his adventure.

We saw where he parted ways with Lena's father, Russ and took off into the jungle looking for the "source" he always spoke of. He also mentioned that Lena was marked and special. Apparently the only two people who knew Emmet and Lena were in contact were Emmet and Lena. The real shocker was Lena admitting to Lucas that she set off the beacon to get someone to try to find her dad. Talk about dancing with the devil.
